NINE WERE KILLED IN DISASTER IN AIR

A BIPLANE COLLIDED WITH A DIRIGIBLE AND ALL THE OCCUPANTS BURNED BE-YOND RECOGNITION.

By Associated Press.

Vienna, Austria, June 20.—Nine aviators were killed today when a mirac war in the air became a tragic reality by the accidental ripping of a dirigible airship by a biplane. Both were flying at a great height during the Austrian army maneuvers. Both craft were destroyed. The occupants were burned beyond recognition.

The biplane circled over the airship in a sham attack, endeavoring to get directly above. The navigator miscalculated the distance and the biplane's nose ripped the bag. A terrific explosion followed, flames engulfing both craft. The charred remnants fell 1500 feet.

By Associated Press.

Constantinople, June 20.—It was stated on good authority today that Turkey had instructed her minister at Athens to inform the Greek government that Turkey is willing to permit the return of the recently expelled Greek subjects. Turkey, it is said, is ready to pay an indemnity.

ONLY THE CREW WAS ABOARD.

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Mo., June 20.—Three persons are unaccounted for in the sinking of the excursion steamer Majestic. About an hour before it landed 900 passengers. Only the crew was aboard when the Majestic struck the water tower ledge and sank.

IN MEMORY OF DANIEL WEBSTER

Boston, Mass., June 20.—The prominence attained by Daniel Webster as a leader of the Massachusetts bar was publicly attested by a great gathering of judges and lawyers today at the old home of the famous statesman at Marshfield. The occasion of the gathering was the annual meeting and outing of the Boston University Law School Association. The principal feature of the day's programme was the placing and dedication of a bronze memorial tablet on a big boulder at the entrance to the Webster estate. The dedication address was delivered by Albert E. Pillsbury, former attorney-general of Massachusetts.

MOTION PICTURE EXHIBITION.

Toronto, Ont., June 20.—The first Canadian exhibition of the motion picture art, under the auspices of the Motion Picture Association of Ontario, opened at the Arena in this city today in conjunction with the third annual convention of the Ontario Exhibitors' League. The convention and exhibition will continue through the coming week.

MEDICS TO MEET AT SHORE.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 19.—An advance guard of delegates consisting of eminent physicians and surgeons from various parts of the United States and Canada, reached Atlantic City today in anticipation of the opening of the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the American Medical Association.
The governing body of the association will hold its annual meeting Monday.
The general sessions will begin the following day and continue through the remainder of the week.

MEDIATION LOOKS MORE FAVORABLE

MINISTER NAON SAYS HE WAS NEVER MORE CONFIDENT
OF ULTIMATE SUCCESS
THAN NOW.

By Associated Press.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 20.—"I was never more confident of the ultimate success of mediation," said Naon
when he arrived today from his Washington conferences with President Wilson. He predicted that negotiations would continue at least another two weeks. Naon bore the president's final word on the Mexican problem. His statement aroused hope that a solution to the deadlock has been discovered.

Señor Naon declined to say what the proposals were that he expected would break the deadlock, but he left Washington highly optimistic. It is probable that a full session of the delegates will be postponed until Monday.

Señor Naon said that he believed that by abandoning the disposition of the individual and proceeding with other important points of the peace plan, a suitable man for the provisional presidency would be found in the interim.

Outlook More Hopeful.

Washington, June 20.—The president authorized the following concerning the conference with Señor Naon last night.
"The entire Mexican question was discussed and the outlook is more hopeful."

Villa Proclaims Angeles.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 20.—The Mexican delegation here received a telegram from the Mexican consul at El Paso stating that Villa has issued a statement to the American people saying that he has proclaimed Felipe Angeles provisional president of Mexico. The consul added that an intercepted message showed that the reports of an amicable adjustment of the Villa-Carranza differences was untrue. It was said that Carranza is sending 3,000 men into Sonora to depose Governor Maytorena.

Ambassador Naon is expected to return this afternoon, bringing President Wilson's views on the mediation deadlock. It will then be determined whether or not the conferences will continue. Probably the last will occur today, exactly one month after they were begun.

Deposed Gen. Angeles.

Saltillo, Mex., June 20.—Carranza yesterday deposed Gen. Angeles as acting minister of war in his cabinet.
Angeles is general of the artillery in Villa's army and a strong Villa partisan. The official explanation said that Angeles disobeyed orders.

SENATOR WARREN 70 YEARS OLD.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Senator Francis E. Warren, who has represented Wyoming in the upper house of Congress for nearly a quarter of a century, came in for congratulations from his colleagues today on the occasion of his seventieth birthday anniversary. Senator Warren was born in the village of Hinsdale, Mass., June 20, 1844. His life story is the story of a poor boy who, with little schooling but unbounded energy,
made his way in the world until he sat
in the seats of the mighty and paid tax on an annual income sufficient to place him in the millionaire class. As a mere youth Senator Warren served in the civil war and is the proud possessor of a medal of honor presented to him by Congress for gallantry on the field of battle. Soon after the close of the war he went to what is now the State of Wyoming.
He engaged in stock raising and accumulated an immense fortune. He was prominent in politics in the territorial days and was elected first governor after Wyoming became a State. He has represented the State in the senate continuously since 1890,
with the exception of the two years
from 1892 to 1895.

MEXICANS TO CELEBRATE.

City of Mexico, June 20.—Residents of the capital are preparing to observe their customary holiday tomorrow in celebration of the anniversary of the taking of the City of Mexico by the forces of Gen. Diaz, June 21, 1867. The city had been held by Count von Khevenhuller, in command of Hungarian veterans. Gen.
Diaz had maintained a siege for 69 days. The fall of the City of Mexico to the Liberal troops marked the last blow to the Imperialists and practically ended the long war of the Napoleonic invasion.

PREMIER ASQUITH RECEIVED WOMEN

NONE BUT WORKING WOMEN WERE PRESENT AND ASQUITH AGREED TO CONSIDER THEIR REPRESENTATIONS.

By Associated Press.

London, Eng., June 20.—Premier
Asquith fulfilled his promise to Sylvia Pankhurst by receiving a deputation of suffragettes today. Sylvia was not present, as the premier insisted that the delegation be composed of genuine working women. A large crowd was present, expecting a fight, but there was no roughness except from workmen who gathered to see that "their women got a square deal."
The premier promised to consider the representations of the women. He agreed with the women that the franchise, if granted them, should be on the same terms as for the men.

DEMOCRATS WORRY OVER APPOINTMENT

REPORTED INTENTION OF PRESI-DENT TO APPOINT NEGRO TO OFFICE IN WASHINGTON IS DISTURBING.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 20.—President
Wilson today asked for the resignation of Henry Johnson, a negro Republican, as recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia. Southern Democrats are disturbed over the reported intention of Mr. Wilson to appoint another negro to fill the vacancy.

"AD" MEN TO MEET IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Ont., June 20.—Leaders of the advertising business from all sections of the United States and Canada are rallying in Toronto for the fourteenth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America.
The delegates will attend special church services tomorrow and on Monday the regular business of the convention will get under way. A record-breaking attendance and a programme that provides for the discussion of every angle of the advertising industry and numerous other matters of interest to the world of business combine to give promise of the most notable convention ever held by the organization.

ILLINOIS SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Carbondale, Ill., June 20.—Enthusiasm was the keynote at the opening of the fifty-sixth annual convention of the Illinois State Sunday School association in the First Presbyterian Church here today. Large delegations of Sunday school workers from leading cities and towns throughout the State were in attendance. The sessions will continue two days, concluding tomorrow evening with a union meeting of the young people's societies at which officers of the International Sunday School association and other prominent workers will speak.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN MEETING.

Cincinnati, O., June 20.—Delegates from many parts of the country have arrived in Cincinnati to attend the national convention of the Knights of St. John. The convention will open with religious services tomorrow and the business sessions will occupy the three days following.

A NEW SENSATION.

According to the San Antonio Express, a gigantic sensation has been sprung through documentary evidence unearthed in that city and proving that the real cause of the break between Villa and Carranza was the fact that Villa had granted concessions to the American Smelting and Refining Company, which covered practically every mineral location in Chihuahua, and that Carranza refused to approve the concessions.

According to the San Antonio story, Carranza remonstrated with his chief officer, and finally annulled the concessions en masse, at the same time depriving Villa of his military rank and appointing Natera to the supreme command.

The Express' informant said that Villa had received large monetary payment for the concessions, which is not at all unlikely if he really granted them and that soon after receiving the money he began to talk about "Mexico for the Mexicans," and to intimate that the concessions would not hold once the revolution's success was assured.

This would not be the first charge of not "staying bought" which has been brought against a Mexican revolutionist. At the time of the death of Madero, he was repeatedly stated that one of the causes of his downfall was the fact that he had been bought by certain interests in consideration of their aid in establishing him in the presidency, and that he very ungratefully refused to keep to his bargain after he became president.

But it appears beyond a shadow of a doubt that the break between Villa and Carranza is complete, and no matter what the cause, the fact is what is important to Mexico and to the United States.

The probable failure of the mediation is due to the insistence of the United States that a constitutionalist should be chosen as provisional president, to which the Mexican delegates naturally object. The objection of Emilio Rabasa, the leader of the delegation, is based on his knowledge of what such a choice would result in, and he accuses the United States of insisting upon what would be a wrong to Mexico, inasmuch as it would influence the elections which are to follow in due course under the provisional government's supervision.

He very logically states that to give to a constitutionalist the power of controlling the machinery of the election would assure a constitutionalist being elected, no matter what the sentiment of the electors. This would happen, Señor Rabasa, says, because Mexico is unused to electoral functions, and the revolutionists in power would naturally turn the elections as they wished.

At the same time, Señor Rabasa points out, if the majority of the people really are in sympathy with the revolution, which he doubts, it should be possible for the constitutionalist candidate to be elected by the popular vote without the intervention of a foreign nation.

He denies the inference of the constitutionalists that the rebel successes show that the nation is with them. The central and eastern states, he claims, have a total population of ten millions of the sixteen millions of the entire republic, are not under rebel control.

And so, says Señor Rabasa, if the majority of the nation is really with Carranza, then the national elections will elect him without the necessity of tainting his triumph with either fraud or violence or the charge of being the fruit of foreign intervention, accusations which under the proposed plan will always be made against it.

But it looks as if Carranza might have very little to say concerning the Mexican elections or anything else.

THE OTHER SIDE.

As a means of information concerning the disorders and lawlessness in Colorado, the Canon City Record, a reputable Colorado newspaper, employing union printers and declaring itself to be a friend of the union workmen, should be considered as impartial as any other disseminator of news in that region.

The Record publishes the account of a public meeting held in that city at which the mob rule methods of the United Mine Workers were sternly condemned and a call was made for a clear and decisive stand for law and order.

The resolutions, which included a commendation of Governor Ammons and a condemnation of Judge Ben Lindsey for his attitude with regard to the industrial conditions of Colorado, were adopted almost unanimously, the Record stating that only one man voted against them and he was a stranger in the community.

The resolutions stated that "certain self-serving politicians, irresponsible fanatics, hysterical women and yellow newspapers have wilfully maligned the governor of this state and vilified the national guard of the state, and have aided, abetted and encouraged the violation of law." The charge was made that the above elements have also "by false representations, misled and deceived, not only many of the citizens of this state, but the United States as well, and thereby have created a false impression abroad as to the integrity of the people of this state and their willingness and ability to maintain law and order."

In the same issue of the Canon City Record there appeared the resolutions of the Freemasons of Denver, which include some of the finest men in that state, which unparagonably condemned the "condition of insurrection against the lawful authority of our state government, wherein several thousand misguided and largely uneducated men, led on and financially sustained by agitators and professional troublemakers, mostly non-residents of our state, possessing no property or other interests in our common wealth, have bid open defiance to and made organized war against the lawfully constituted authority of our state, murdered many men and created a reign of terror."

It is inconceivable that good men and women who are present at the scene of the troubles and who know all about them should go on record as deliberately falsifying the records of the conditions in Colorado.

It is also inconceivable that men who are reputable members of a great order like the Masons would be willing to make false statements concerning things of which they are informed, merely for the sake of satisfying any grudge which they might have against the mine workers' organization.

There are always two sides to every question, and it is not at all certain that the statements given out by the sympathizers with the strikers have been at all times accurate. The denial of many of the statements has been made public by some of the best of Colorado's citizens, and surely their word is as good as that of the professional trouble-maker who goes from one state to another for the purpose of lining his pockets with the funds of the strikers whom he incites to make trouble.

There will probably be a full and fair investigation of the Colorado mine affair. And when it is over, we may rest assured that the truth will be given to the public and the whole truth, at that.

Carranza is reported to be getting ready to flee from Saltillo and come to Laredo. Well, if he has a few dollars to pay his board with, he could not find a better place for the summer. We have gotten so used to political exiles that they don't worry us any more, except when they present the park benches to hold their discussions on.

The Oklahoma negroes who have been waiting in Galveston for some months for the steamer which was to take them to their "promised land" in Africa are an optimistic bunch. Some of them say that they know they will have to wait for the second trip, but they are willing. Must have a new beach for the negroes at the f. s. b. w.

It now looks as if Lorimer would find himself persona non grata with the depositors of his bank in Chicago. The attorney general of Illinois made some startling charges against the management when he asked for a receiver, and the indications are that Lorimer may have to pay up some thing of a deficit.

Nihilists again tried to blow up the Russian emperor, but only succeeded in dynamiting the pilot train, derailed the coaches and injuring several persons. Something like the "success" of the rebel dynamiting gang which used to operate on the railroad south of Nuevo Laredo—they always got the innocent persons.

The news that the Dublin Nationalists have received a large shipment of the latest American arms is evidence that another revolution is likely to add to the world's gayety soon. The perennial Mexican revolution, the revolt in Santo Domingo, the Albanian trouble and the miners war in Montana will pale into insignificance in comparison with a real Irish shindig.

Only One Entirely Satisfactory. "I have tried various colic and diarrhoea remedies, but the only one that has given me entire satisfaction and cured me when I was afflicted is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. SIR GEORGE ALEXANDER

Sir George Alexander who is probably the most widely known of the actors of the English stage was born in Reading, England, June 19, 1858. After completing his schooling he started on a commercial career in London, but being an enthusiastic amateur actor, soon took to the stage. His first regular engagement was in 1879, at the Theatre Royal in Nottingham. After touring the provinces for a season or two he joined the company of the late Sir Henry Irving at the Lyceum Theatre in London. Not until he appeared as "Faust" in 1885, did Mr. Alexander attract anything more than ordinary attention from the critics and public. His success in that and other pieces produced during the next few years enabled him to become a manager on his own account in 1899. Since that time his name has been identified with a number of the leading theatres of the British metropolis. Sir George received his title of knighthood in 1911.

Besides laying claim to being the greatest onion-producing section in the country, Laredo can produce more bootblacks and hackdrivers than any other place on earth. DECIDE IN FAVOR OF ALEXANDER

Court of Appeals Reversed and Reversed Case Including the Possession of the Town of Palafox.

In the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio has been handed down a decision in an important land suit which had been pending for some time in this county in which much interest was manifested and the outcome of which was closely watched by all. The district court here had tried the case and decided it in favor of the defendants, and in the decision of the appellate court referred to, being carried to that tribunal by George R. Alexander. Unless the case is now carried to the supreme court of Texas the land involved, including the townsite of Palafox, will become the undisputed property of the plaintiffs. The defendants in this case were squatters who had settled on the land and when an attempt was made to eject them it became necessary to take the matter to court, with the results cited above.

A brief history of the land involved and matters in connection therewith is not amiss at this time. Some time prior to 1810 the crown of Spain granted a large tract of land to Joaquin Galan and about the same year the town of Palafox was established thereon. At first the town was inhabited by only a few people and a military garrison is said to have been maintained there. About the year 1818 the change of Palafox was destroyed, and most of the inhabitants killed and the town was abandoned and remained a vacant spot in the wilderness on the banks of the Rio Grande until 1884—or 66 years later, when it was again inhabited by a few squatters. About the year 1901 the State of Texas brought suit against Tom O'Connor for a large tract of land (19,410 acres) bordering on the Rio Grande. About the same time the state also instituted suit against Precipio Garza de Villareal in the district court of Travis county and recovered a judgment for 2,000 acres adjoining the O'Connor tract, including the townsite of Palafox. The state won both cases. Appeals were taken to the court of civil appeals at Austin, which reversed the judgment of the district court of Travis county. The state carried the case to the supreme court of Texas, which reversed the judgment of the court of civil appeals and affirmed the judgment of the Travis county district court. O'Connor sued out a writ of error and carried the case to the supreme court of the United States, which affirmed the verdict handed down by the supreme court of Texas, giving the O'Connor tract to the State of Texas, and the Villareal suit, being a companion case, the decision of the supreme court of Texas pertaining to the Villareal tract also affirmed the decision of the supreme court of Texas. Then it was that the state of Texas platted the land into sections of 640 acres each, including the town of Palafox. Four sections of this land were sold to George R. Alexander and his mother. After they purchased the land from the state and began to fence it a number of squatters, some of whom had resided on the land for several years, laid claim to the land, alleging that they had a right to live thereon as Alexander had no title thereto, as the land was a Spanish grant. Alexander brought suit in the district court of Webb county for possession of the land and these squatters defended the suit on the ground that the state had no title to the land. On the trial of the cause in the district court here the court instructed a verdict in favor of the defendants. Alexander carried the case to the court of appeals, with the result that the case was reversed and reversed.

NARROWLY ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Two Men Badly Injured in Nuevo Laredo When Old Wall Crumbled and Fell Over on Them.

Yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock while a force of Mexican laborers were employed in clearing away the debris and arranging to put in some joists for a roof over a portion of the federal arsenal opposite the Juarez plaza in Nuevo Laredo two of the laborers narrowly escaped meeting tragic deaths.

The wall on one side of the arsenal crumbled and toppled over, some of the concrete striking one man in the head and rendering him unconscious, while another was entirely buried under the mass of crumbled concrete and only a hand protruded. He was finally dug out and found to be badly cut about the face, hands and body and in a state of unconsciousness, but after being rushed to the hospital regained his senses. However, he is still in a precarious condition. The man who was struck in the head is recovering.

Civil Service Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination in this city on July 16, 1914, to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill a vacancy in the position of messenger at $720 per annum in the Custom House of Laredo. Persons interested in this examination can procure application blanks and obtain other information desired by calling on Mr. Thos. Worsham.

BANK RECEIVER IS UNDER HEAVY BOND

FORMER SECRETARY OF LORIMER DENIES EVER BORROWING MONEY FROM LA SALLE STREET BANK.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, June 19.—W. C. Niblock, vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust Company, was named receiver of the La Salle Street Bank this morning under a $250,000 bond. Among the bank's assets were found unsecured personal notes for $169,000 signed with the name of Charles E. Ward. Today Ward said that he never borrowed the money. Ward was private secretary to Lorimer when the latter was United States senator. Lorimer was the president of the La Salle Street Bank.

HOUSTON NEGROES CELEBRATE.

Unique Reunion Was Held by Former Slaves and Their "Old Masters" Today.

By Associated Press.

Houston, Tex., June 19.—Emancipation Day found old negroes, once slaves, and their "old masters" eagerly awaiting a unique reunion planned for this afternoon in one of the city parks in celebration of the day which set the negroes free.

After the renewal of the strong friendships between the white men and the black, it was planned to serve a dinner, superintended by the "black uncles," and cooked by the "black mammas," while their younger descendants were to play their part in serving the old-time dishes prepared.

Five former slaves, each of whom has lived in Harris county more than 150 years, were in charge of the affair.

JUNIOR ATHLETES TO COMPETE.

New York, June 19.—The junior track and field championship meet of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will be held at Travers Island tomorrow and gives promise of unusual conditions and results for these important contests. In the past, the New York Athletic Club and the Irish-American Athletic Club have practically had matters their own way as the entries from the smaller clubs have not cut much figure, but this year all the less prominent organizations have taken united action looking to trying for honors in the junior contests, and many of the clubs have entered their best men.

MEETING OF STAMP MANUFACTURERS.

Toronto, Ont., June 19.—Three hundred and fifty members of the International Stamp Manufacturers' Association, who met in the early part of the week in Buffalo, arrived in Toronto today to conclude the sessions of their annual convention. The membership of the association embraces representative dealers in rubber stamps, seals, etc., in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Australia. During their two-day stay in Toronto the visitors are to be entertained by the Stamp Manufacturers' Association of Canada.

CANADA TO WELCOME NEW CARDINAL.

Quebec, June 19.—Arrangements on an elaborate scale were completed today for the reception to be given in honor of His Eminence Cardinal Begin on his arrival here from Rome the first of the week. The demonstration will begin with an official reception Tuesday afternoon and will continue until the following Sunday. Among the features will be a municipal banquet at the City Hall, a concert at the Laval Monument, the presentation of an address by the clergy and the celebration of pontifical high mass at the Basilica, with a sermon by Abbe Camilleri.

CONFERENCE ON EUGENICS.

New York, June 19.—To develop the so-called science of eugenics with a view to its application to education and other purposes is the object of a national conference which met at Columbia University today under the auspices of the Eugenics Research Association. The association was formed a year ago as an outgrowth of the annual conference of field workers of the eugenics record office, officers of other institutions carrying on studies in heredity and other persons interested in research in eugenics.

SEVENTEEN TOOK EXAMINATION

Applicants for Civil Service Positions in Immigration Department Put Through the "Mill."

A total of seventeen male applicants for positions in the United States immigration department took the civil service examination conducted at the federal building in this city yesterday by Capt. Thos. N. Worsham, secretary of the local civil service board. The examination consumed more than seven hours and was taken by the following applicants: J. H. Williams, F. A. Thomas, H. E. Baird, L. J. Perkins, J. P. Byrne, G. W. C. Dreyer, Otto Withoff, Sam Foster, Manuel Raymond, John Rosetti, J. J. Hewitt, A. O. Dannelley, C. H. Randolph, Geo. S. Courrey, E. J. Barthelme, R. L. Schultze and Sam Anderson.

The examination was confined to provisions of the United States immigration laws, especially as to the Chinese exclusion act, naturalization requirements and the immigration laws in general. As one applicant put it, "it was a hard one and very intricate, but I guess we got there." To those who had not familiarized themselves with the laws on which questions were asked and had to be responded to the examination was a difficult one and the abstruse questions proved perplexing. It will be several weeks before the results of the examination will be known. Several of those who are applicants for positions are at present employed in the customs service and the examination was taken by a few of these to further qualify themselves for better positions if the opportunity presents itself.

Don't Know Where They Are "At."

The news received yesterday to the effect that Carranza and Villa had "agreed to disagree" and that the wily Pancho would no longer lead the forces of the sedentary Venustiano, created considerable interest here. Rebel sympathizers for a time were wondering where they were "at." Naturally there were inquiries as to who they were aligned with under the circumstances, but pending the receipt of definite confirmation of the reported split very few of the "bloodless patriots" on the American side were willing to venture an expression on the matter or say whether he was for Villa or for Carranza.

NEGRO IN HIS GLORY TOMORROW

It is Juneteenth, and Wherever the Sons of Ham Are Found They Celebrate the Day Properly.

Tomorrow is "Juneteenth," or more properly the anniversary of the Declaration of Emancipation, the proclamation issued by President Abraham Lincoln freeing the negro slaves. The proclamation of President Lincoln was issued on January 1, 1863, declaring all slaves in the states then in rebellion to be "then, thereforforth and forever free." A preliminary proclamation had been issued on September 22, 1862, giving warning of the intended measure. The proclamation proper went into effect on June 19, 1863.

Throughout the United States, in whatever community one finds a number of negroes, will also be found jubilation and celebration on June 19. It is the negro's Fourth of July, and he vies with the "white folks" on that occasion in showing the world that he "am free." As a negro, a watermelon and a possum are inseparable, this is the day on which the negro is in "his glory," but if he can't get a piece of "possum and taters his heart is content with a large, sweet and juicy watermelon on "emancipation day. Here in Laredo there are very few negroes, but nevertheless they observe Juneteenth in an appropriate manner every year.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remediation. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. It is not a matter of time, but of fact, that deafness is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give you a refund for every case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by local applications. Write to F. J. CURENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Send for circulars free.

WAS PIONEER RESIDENT OF TEXAS

Valentin Manuel Esteban Puig, Who Passed Away Last Night, Came to Texas Fifty-Seven Years Ago.

A pioneer resident of Southwest Texas peacefully passed to his reward at 9:30 last night at his home in this city when Mr. Valentin Manuel Esteban Puig closed his eyes in eternal slumber. For fifty years he had been a resident of Texas, residing in various parts of the state and established a reputation for upright, honest dealing with his fellowmen that made him popular with all who had dealings with him.

Deceased was a native of Villanova de la Roca, Province of Cataluña, Spain, where he was born on March 15, 1837. At the age of twenty years he emigrated to the United States, landing in New Orleans and remaining there a short time. Then a few years later he moved to Bagdad, in the Brownsville country, where he established a hostelry business and conducted one of the leading hotels of that section. From Bagdad he removed to Galveston, where he remained but a short time, when he returned to Southwest Texas, settling at San Diego in 1875, engaging in the stock raising husbandry and remaining there up to about 15 years ago, when he removed with his family to Laredo and has since that time made his domicile in this city. For some years past he had been in feeble health and spent his declining days in retirement.

Besides his devoted wife, the subject of this sketch is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Hebbren, of Tampico and Mrs. L. Fulan, of New Orleans; also two sons, B. A. and Valentin Puig of this city, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in the misfortune which has befallen them of a devoted husband and loving father.

The funeral will take place from the Puig residence, 714 Zaragoza street, to San Agustín pro-cathedral, tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, the body being laid to rest in the family vault in the Catholic cemetery.

Death of M. M. Reynolds.

A telegram was received in Laredo this morning announcing the death in Old Point Comfort, Va. yesterday of M. M. Reynolds, a well known railroad official who formerly resided in Laredo. For a time deceased was auditor of the Texas-Mexican and Mexican National Lines here and later went to Mexico, where he became controller of the National Lines. Ten years ago Mr. Reynolds went to Montreal, Canada, where he became vice-president of the Grand Trunk Lines. On account of impaired health he was removed to Old Point Comfort the latter part of May in hopes that the change would prove beneficial, but alas, he passed away there yesterday.

No Hose Racing at Corpus.

A telegram received last evening from J. E. Shoemaker, chief of the Corpus Christi Fire Department, conveyed the information that it had been decided to abandon the idea of having hose-racing contests there on the afternoon of July 4 because of the fact that not enough teams to justify holding the contest could participate. Teams from various parts of the state had been requested to enter, but the only favorable replies were from Laredo and Cuero, all the other places answering that their towns were to have big Fourth of July celebrations and they wanted to be at home on that occasion. Two Laredo teams were preparing to go to Corpus in the event the contest were held.

FOLLOWERS OF "CHIEF" SAM EXPECT TO EVENTUALLY REACH THEIR GOAL IN AFRICA.
By Associated Press.
Galveston, Texas, June 18.—"Chief" Sam's steamer "Liberia" for the "Back to Africa" expedition arrived today.

A remarkable demonstration of their racial patience and optimism has been given by the 550 negroes, mostly from Oklahoma, who came here more than five months ago expecting to be taken to the Gold Coast of Africa by Chief Sam. Though Sam's scheme has been publicly denounced in the press, though months ago these negroes paid their passage and hold nothing but a slip of paper as security that they will ever get any return, less than one hundred of the original "band for Africa" colony have deserted the long watch here and returned to Oklahoma. The rest of them are living here, some single, some "just married" and some married and with good sized families, scattered in small groups through the negro colony.

These negroes say they realize that they cannot all go on the first sailing of the steamer Liberia, which left Portland Maine the first week in June with some of the colonists aboard and expecting to pick up others here. The Liberia has accommodations for only part of those now waiting here. The negroes are paying their expenses while awaiting the steamer and say they expect to pay for their meals on the passage across to Africa. Those left here on the first trip, expect the Liberia to return for them in a few months.

READY FOR BIG BOAT RACE.

New London, Conn., June 18.—Once more has the little city of New London donned holiday dress for the annual Yale-Harvard boat races on the Thames. In nearly all the streets the colors of the two universities are displayed conspicuously. Every train today brought its quota of enthusiasts and it is believed the influx of visitors tomorrow morning will establish a new high record.

The opening event of the day's program will be the race of the varsity four. After the four finish the freshman eight-oared race will be rowed during the morning. The race of varsity eights, the big event of the day, will be rowed in the late afternoon. The prevailing opinion among unbiased critics today is that Yale's varsity eight is the strongest she has had in some years and is on even terms with the veteran Harvard aggregation. There is also every indication that the two freshman eights also are evenly balanced and that their race given fast water conditions should produce a new record for the course, in competition.

Galveston, Texas, June 18.—"Chief" Sam's steamer "Liberia" for the "Back to Africa" expedition arrived today.

A remarkable demonstration of their racial patience and optimism has been given by the 550 negroes, mostly from Oklahoma, who came here more than five months ago expecting to be taken to the Gold Coast of Africa by Chief Sam. Though Sam's scheme has been publicly denounced in the press, though months ago these negroes paid their passage and hold nothing but a slip of paper as security that they will ever get any return, less than one hundred of the original "band for Africa" colony have deserted the long watch here and returned to Oklahoma. The rest of them are living here, some single, some "just married" and some married and with good sized families, scattered in small groups through the negro colony.

These negroes say they realize that they cannot all go on the first sailing of the steamer Liberia, which left Portland Maine the first week in June with some of the colonists aboard and expecting to pick up others here. The Liberia has accommodations for only part of those now waiting here. The negroes are paying their expenses while awaiting the steamer and say they expect to pay for their meals on the passage across to Africa. Those left here on the first trip, expect the Liberia to return for them in a few months.

TRIED TO BLOW UP RUSSIAN EMPEROR

PILOT TRAIN AHEAD OF IMPERIAL TRAIN STRUCK A BOMB AND MANY WERE INJURED.

By Associated Press.

Berlin, Germany, June 18.—An attempt was made near Tschudovo, Russia, to blow up a Russian imperial train bearing the emperor of Russia and his family. A bomb on the track was struck by the pilot train preceding the imperial train. Many coaches were derailed and several persons injured.

ILLINOIS SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

East St. Louis, Ill., June 18.—More than 1,000 delegates and visitors were present here today when the eleven annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans, department of Illinois, met under way. The encampment will continue three days. Interspersing the daily business sessions will be numerous features of entertainment provided for the visitors by Nelson Miles Camp No. 62 of this city.

ADDRESS BY PERUVIAN MINISTER.

Oxford, O., June 18.—Members of the senior classes of Miami University received their degrees at the seventy-fifth annual commencement today. The diplomas were presented by President Raymond M. Hughes. The address to the graduates was delivered by Federico Alfonso Pezet, the Peruvian minister to the United States.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 18.—Justice Lamar began work early today on the reply to the statement of the Mexican delegates last night declaring that the insistence of the United States on a constitutionalist for provisional president would be "tantamount to abetting and even exacting fraud and violence at election."

The statement was delivered to the Americans last Friday and replied to by them. The Mexicans failed to give the United States side in the public statement. The Mexicans' action caused much speculation.

The American reply said that the Mexicans failed to consider that the United States under no circumstances would influence the elections.

Whether the conference will continue will be determined tomorrow.

Emilio Rabasa denied rumors that the statement was a defense against anticipated failure of the negotiations. He said that he honestly felt that the expression might be publicly approved and that this would influence the American government.

The Mexicans gave out a report from the El Paso consulate that Villa's men had executed twenty-five Carranza officials.

Administration is Doubtful.
Washington, June 18.—While administration officials said today that they still hoped for a successful outcome of mediation, they are more doubtful than ever. Officials close to the president feel that the public statement of the Mexicans yesterday disclosed that the Mexicans are consistently holding out for a Huerta adherent for presidency, despite the fact that many such men were mentioned as "neutrals."

The president is equally determined that unless the man chosen shall have the constitutionalists' approval the new government will be troubled from the outset.

Villa Presented Ultimatum.

Eagle Pass, Texas, June 18.—Despatches received in Piedras Negras assert that Villa presented an ultimatum to Carranza, demanding absolute repatriation of the civil and military governments. It was said that Villa agreed to recognize Carranza as his superior if Carranza gave him control of the army and made him supreme military chief.

Carranza Preparing to Flee.
Washington, June 18.—Representative Kent of California told the president today that he was informed from Mexico that Carranza was about to flee to Laredo, Texas. Mr. Kent did not name his informant.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Editorial Cares Laid Aside While Newspaper Men Meet in Wichita Falls.

By Associated Press.

Wichita Falls, Tex., June 18.—Members of the "fourth estate" today forgot editorial cares with the convening here of the annual convention of the Texas Press Association. Shears and gluepot were laid aside for the editors to hear experts tell "how it ought to be done." Dull routine gave way to an elaborate program of entertainment.

Among speakers listed on the program for addresses were: Will H. May, dean of the School of Journalism, University of Texas; Wright A. Patterson, editor in chief of the Western Newspaper Union, of Chicago; and J. E. Farnsworth, vice-president of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, of Texas.

A feature of the entertainment provided for the delegates is an automobile ride through the oil and gas fields.

Joe J. Taylor, of Dallas, is president, and S. R. Harben, of Richardson, is secretary, of the Press Association.

Corpus Christi and Austin want the next convention.

Deserved Promotion.

Alfonso Rodriguez, who has served as messenger and in other capacities in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Laredo for the past two years, left this morning for a position as operator for the same company under Manager Chas. Poggenpohl. Alfonso deserved his promotion, which was the result of his painstaking efforts and his industrious application.

ASKED RECEIVER FOR LORIMER BANK

SERIOUS CHARGES ALLEGED AGAINST BANK OF MIS-USING FUNDS WITHOUT AUTHORITY.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Ill., June 18.—Attorney General Lucey today applied for a receiver for the La Salle Street Bank, of which former Senator Lorimer is president. The petition said that the bank listed bonds as worth $900,000 but worth only $250,000. Of three millions in loans it was said that a million and one-half had no value. Cash items listed as $137,000 were found to be only $32,000. The petition alleges that large loans were improperly made to Lorimer enterprises.

From Wednesday's Daily.

THE TERRAZAS CASE.

Some months ago the rebels in Chihuahua captured the son of Luis Terrazas, who at various times paid enormous sums for the release of the son. The rebels, however, believing that the prisoner was better than a gold mine, accepted the money and each time broke their word to release him upon payment of the sum demanded.

The old man claimed that he had been forced to pay all the ready money he possessed and that the continued occupation by the rebels of his property in the state of Chihuahua—of which he owns a great part—prevented him from raising more.

Repeated threats to place the son on the firing line, where it was believed (and hoped) that he would be killed by federal bullets, failed to bring any more ransom money, and finally he was placed in the penitentiary by his captors, who refused to listen to any offers of money for his release.

Now the United States is asked by the Brazilian ambassador to secure the release of Terrazas, who has been subjected to unspeakable indignities for the sole crime of being father's son.

The trouble with the average Mexican of low class is that he is prone to confuse the hatred for the principle with a personal hatred of the person believed to represent that principle.

The feeling against the rich landholder in Mexico extends personally to the members of his family. Not content with hating the system which produced the great landholders, each great proprietor becomes the object of a hatred so intense that it demands the torture and imprisonment of all of his family.

Of course, another cause of the hatred which the rebels bear for the Terrazas family is that the great fortune has been used in aid of the federal cause. And that is one thing that cannot be forgiven, especially as so little of the fortune remains in real tangible money or securities that can be converted into money.

When all is said and done, the real provocation for the revolution in Mexico was the desire to get hold of the money which the federal officials and sympathizers had and which the poor men wanted but had not. As one of Villa's followers frankly, even brutally, stated, the revolution was for the purpose of making the rich man poor and the poor man rich.

And along those lines it has been extremely successful from the rebel point of view. Many of the rebels whose former financial operations were confined to the expending of a few cents for their daily tortillas and frijoles now have their automobiles, their swarms of attendants and their daily libations of costly liquors instead of a glass or two of plebeian mezcal.

But their success has not added anything to the world's wealth, save as it put some money into circulation. It has produced nothing, but on the contrary it has resulted in the wanton destruction of most of the wealth of Mexico.

In the Terrazas case, in particular, some of the money went to the war chest of the rebels, while the most of it went to riotous living for the leaders, the rank and file contenting themselves with the killing of the great herds, which represented the greater part of the Terrazas wealth.

The mines which were owned by the family have been either wantonly destroyed or have been closed because of the insecurity which everyone felt in the territory dominated by the rebels. Over vast domains once covered with enormous herds of cattle the buzzard now searches in vain for food, and one may travel for many miles without seeing a single animal.

And all because of class hatred.

PLANETARY INFLUENCE.

In a recent news letter of the department of agriculture a correspondent's inquiry as to whether the positions of the planets affect the weather is answered in the negative.

For many centuries the superstition that the planets had a beneficent or adverse influence on human beings, as well as on growing plants, has obtained. The earliest writings of which we have any knowledge are filled with statements of the baleful influence of certain planets and the means of combating this influence.

Even in modern times there are people who will not have their hair cut in the dark of the moon, because of a belief that it will grow faster if cut when the moon is full. Others cut their finger nails at various phases of the moon so that they will not grow so rapidly.

Many farmers still practice the custom of planting root plants, such as potatoes, turnips, beets and the like, in the dark of the moon so that they will grow faster, while they state that unless crops which mature above ground are planted at the full of the moon they will not be successful.

The old belief that dogs must be carefully watched during the "dog days" is borne out by recent investigations, but not for the same reason that the ancients gave—that during the reign of the "dog star" the animals were more liable to become rabid. Modern science has discovered that during the extreme heat of the summer dogs and other animals are most affected because at such times they do not usually get enough water to satisfy their thirst.

The department of agriculture says that the plants could not possibly be affected by the reason that the heating of the different parts of the earth and its atmosphere is the real cause of the winds and rains, and the planets do not supply much heat to the earth.

In fact it is pointed out that the heat supplied to the earth by all the planets, including the moon, is negligible compared with that from the sun.

Without a different temperature at one place there would be no wind, as the wind is caused by the heated air mosphere rising and letting in the air from another section, the air moving more rapidly to a place from which the air has been removed by becoming lighter through heat.

The only cause of rain is water and heat (or the absence of heat). Rain is water which has been evaporated from the surface of the earth and which has risen to form clouds. When the temperature of the upper strata of air becomes sufficiently reduced to condense this vapor to water again, the rain falls.

A note of the planets produces enough heat to evaporate water, it is certain that none of them could produce rain. And the juxtaposition of the planets could not reduce the temperature sufficiently to cause the condensation of vapor.

The statements can be easily tested by anyone. Observe the positions of the planets, and the kind of weather which prevails. During certain positions of the various planets, and it will be found that it does not always correspond to the same positions.

Scientists have made observations for many years to determine whether the position of the planets had any effect on the weather, with the result that they have all come to the same conclusion—namely, that the weather is dependent upon only one thing and that is heat, which is not furnished to the earth by any of the planets.

This will no doubt be received with incredulity by many who have been for years past positive in the belief that the planets affected the weather, as well as many other things on this earth of ours. Nothing is so hard to kill as an irrational superstition.

As a cheap bidder for fame, Rev. Louis Patmore is entitled to the front rank. Not content with his previous disappearance, which he said was due to having been "kidnaped" by his enemies, he has again left without giving any address, and his friends are once more classing him among the "martyrs" of the Prohibition cause. It is hardly believable that anyone could be so foolish as to want him to disappear. His presence is more injurious to his friends than to his enemies, the saloon-keepers—that is, if they are his enemies.

Poor Paris is without gas, water, electricity or fire protection. Just why people remain away from Laredo is hard to discover, save that probably they want to wait for their pleasure until they get too heaven.

If those mediators don't hurry up, they will lose the first-hand position. What with the threatened war between Greece and Turkey, the new revolution in Albania and other important news, we cannot agree to hold the space much longer for Mexican news.

When nothing else happens in New York, a sensational tenement fire can be always depended upon. This time seven were burned to death and twenty injured. Laredo may not be as big as Gotham, but at least we don't kill off our surplus population in that fashion.

President Wilson is hoping that the antitrust legislation program will be completed soon so that congress may adjourn in July. If it don't, fences are going to need a great deal of patching.

CITY OF LAREDO, TEXAS.

By R. C. Bateman,

Such a lake of water would enhance land values ten fold, and would even temper the climate in the hot summers, create pleasure resorts, townships, etc., etc., out of water at present running to waste. To enlarge upon the effect of this, or even a smaller body of water is useless, because it becomes at once patent to the small-est thinker.

Selection of Sight of Reservoir Important.

The soil generally is light and porous so the fact must not be lost sight of that great care would be necessary in selecting a site for such a reservoir. This advice and selection will be made free of cost by the National Government upon proper representation (See copy of Senator Morris Sheppard's letter attached).

Condenser Water Also to be Utilized.

To obtain this irrigation, a power plant should be placed at the Coal Fields, of sufficient magnitude to supply power necessary for these pumps and for the generation and transmission of power to interior points, and here even one item of economy presents itself in the utilization of condenser water for the purpose of irrigation, instead of returning it to the river. (See reference to this in accompanying Engineer's Report.)

Object of This Report.

The initiator of these projects by no means intends this report in the character of an estimate, as this must be the subject of specialist investigation, but rather in the light of a report upon vast possibilities of this large and unusually rich and fertile section, and with the expectation that it may attract the attention of capital seeking sound industrial and agricultural and land investments and as such it is presented.

Gas Pumps For Irrigating.

Already investigated the question of a suitable pump, or type of pump, for this purpose of which there are at present a group of five working together and delivering 250,000,000 gallons in 24 hours, employing direct gas force, only, or gasoline. Such a volume as this, or even half of it could deal with 200,000 acres of land at all times and this project is no Utopian dream.

Electrical Distribution in Small Units.

The important feature however is that well distributed electric power could and would be applied to small pumping units, further into the interior and could be employed in wells and small streams, the water of which is at present going to waste for the want of power to lift it onto the land.

Soil Survey.

A pamphlet entitled "A Soil Survey of Laredo, by the Department of Agriculture, United States Government," is attached to this report, and it may be added that what applies to this area applies equally to the areas near the coal fields, and which are connected by the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass Railroad, with Laredo, as shown on this soil survey map.

It is suggested merely, that this project might be initiated by:

First—Acquiring these coal lands, or part of them.

Second—By expending only sufficient capital for the first unit of power, at an expenditure of about $250,000, and adding thereto as the project developed itself.

Third—The acquirement of tracts of raw land and the irrigation and sale of the same.

Fourth—The development of local industries.

Fifth—The mining and export of shipping coal and the utilization of the "bone" coal and screenings for power development and for such other purposes as the financial promoters might determine.

NOTE.

By a reference to the University of Texas Bulletin pages 14 and 23 it will be seen that Laredo Coal figures conspicuously low in ash, page 14, and Laredo Coal page 23, as high in heat values, being, as received for analysis:

Coal From Laredo District.

Moisture 3.90 per cent

Volatiles and combustible matter 48.87 " "

Fixed Carbon 29.22 " "

Ash 8.61 " "

100.00

Thermal value B. T. U. 13197

It will be seen that this Laredo Coal compares favorably with all other analysis.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS AFLOAT

Some Startling Reports in Circulation Regarding Activities of Huerta

Sympathizers Hereabouts.

A rumor has been current for several days past that a Mexican federal filibuster expedition has been in process of organization on the Texas side of the river not far from Laredo, having for its purpose the concentration of a force of several hundred sympathizers of the Huerta government for an attack on Nuevo Laredo. The rumor has been persistent now for fully a week and a keen watch has been kept on developments from the Mexican side of the river, according to information emanating from Nuevo Laredo.

It is reported that there are a number of agents of the Huerta government in the vicinity of Laredo who in their surreptitious movements are cleverly doing recruiting work. Whether or not this is true remains to be seen. It is also reported that a sum of money with which to pay these agents and their hirelings their salaries was received here recently from the City of Mexico and that all hands have been paid off. This report also remains to be confirmed. But these are the reports in circulation and are given for what they are worth.

A telephone message to the Times office this morning was to the effect that yesterday afternoon a Mexican federal spy had landed on the Mexican side of the river west of Nuevo Laredo at a point opposite the Laredo Seminary. It is said he was in a skiff and was shot down as he attempted to get back to the American side. The rebels believe that this man was engaged in the nefarious business of smuggling ammunition across to Mexican federal sympathizers, taking the material over by night and "lying low" during the day. But this is only another surmise and the truth remains to be determined. Anyhow it is claimed the man was killed after speaking over to the Mexican side and then trying to escape back to the American banks of the river.

Calls For Bids.

Bids will be received up to noon July 7th, 1914, for the erection of three storm sewers for the City of Laredo. Also for the extension of the present sewer. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the City Secretary. Individual copies will be furnished the bidder on the payment of five dollars. The City Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. This work will be subject to the result of a bond election.

TO BUILD MORE STORM SEWERS

Two New Ones Will be Constructed, While the Two Old Ones Will be Extended Considerably.

The city of Laredo, through the street and bridge committee of the city council, of which Alderman J. S. Westbrook is the chairman, is contemplating the construction of two more storm sewers and the extension of those already doing service in order to better facilitate the carrying off of storm waters in this city during heavy rains.

Sewer No. 1, which is located near the courthouse and running toward the river, is to be extended another block in order to increase its carrying capacity. A second sewer will be installed north of the Texas-Mexican track on Scott street and will empty into the arroyo on that same street. The old sewer on Turbulent street will also be extended a certain distance to do more effective service after heavy rains. A second new storm water sewer will be constructed near Car place in the vicinity of the I. & G. N. depot to relieve the congestion of waters in that neighborhood which prevails after heavy rains.

The committee is now advertising for bids for the construction of the two new sewers and the extensions of the old ones, and in order to accomplish this work it will be necessary to call an election to vote on bonds for use for this purpose. The selling of bonds will not mean an additional onerous burden on the taxpayers, but merely means an authorization for the expenditure of the money. No additional tax will result from the voting of the bond issue. The city is in excellent financial condition at this time and if the voters so decree the necessary money to construct the contemplated sewers and extensions will be carried out by the city.

At the next meeting of the city council the street and bridge committee will ask authority to construct a new bridge leading from the city to the Heights section, this structure to span the arroyo. The new bridge will be erected at the most convenient point and money for use in its construction will also be provided for by a bond issue.

NOTICE TO CITY DELINQUENT TAX PAYERS.

Notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the City of Laredo for taxes for any year from 1885 to 1913, both years inclusive, to call without further delay and pay the same to the City Tax Collector; otherwise I shall bring suit for the same and foreclose the tax lien on your property, and sell the same for the taxes, penalty, interest and court costs due thereon; such a legal proceeding will greatly increase your burden and more than double your taxes.

Rio Grande & Eagle Pass R'y Institutes Proceedings Against Texas-Mexican to Decide Question.

In view of the fact that a similar case is now on trial in the district court at Laredo by the same parties, the following item from Austin is of interest to the people of Laredo, and especially those interested in the question involved:

"Proceedings have been instituted in the fifty-third district in Travis County which will test the right of railroads to participate in divisions on company freight handled over their own lines. The plea is one of injunction to prevent the enforcement of the railroad commission's order permitting divisions on company freight where it is handled some distance beyond the receiving junction. It is styled Rio Grande & Eagle Pass Railroad Company vs. Railroad Commission to enjoin its order relative to divisions.

"The plaintiff is a coal-carrying road out of Laredo. The Texas-Mexican line buys coal from mines on the former road and bills it to Pescadito, a station on its own road, eighteen miles east of Laredo. In that way it qualifies to collect a division on the coal bought for its own use.

"The Rio Grande & Eagle Pass objects to dividing any part of the rate, alleging that when it delivers the coal to the Texas-Mexican at Laredo Junction the whole duty is performed; that there is no coal chutes or facilities at Pescadito, and that most of the coal is hauled back to Laredo. The entire purpose, it is alleged, in transporting the coal to Pescadito is to force a division of the rate.

"When the case at bar is finally decided in a court of last resort, it is expected that the railroads will know their full rights in demanding divisions on joint shipments of company freight."

The case on trial in the district court here today is that of the Texas-Mexican R'y. Co. vs. the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass R'y. Co. suit to collect $6,000 revenue prorate.

It appears that the railroad commission has entered an order requiring the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass R'y. Co. to levy a revenue prorate with the Texas-Mexican on all company material shipped from Minera to Pescadito. This order reduces the revenue of the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass R'y. Co. approximately $10,000 per annum, and in the case now on trial the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass R'y. Co. is resisting the payment of the revenue. The outcome of the legal proceedings prorate to the Texas-Mexican R'y. Co. will be watched with keen interest by all those interested, as the decisions in both the case filed at Austin and that now on trial here will affect other railroads in Texas which are in a similar predicament as the Rio Grande & Eagle Pass on this proposition.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

The trial of the case, which began yesterday morning in district court here, was concluded this forenoon, when Judge Muldally rendered judgment in favor of the Texas-Mexican R'y. Co. for $5,017.42, with foreclosure of lien on the property of the R. G. & E. P. R'y. Co. with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The R. G. & E. P. R'y. Co. through its attorney, requested the court to file his finding of facts and conclusions of law in the case and gave notice of appeal.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Is Guaranteed by ALL DRUGGISTS.

Nearly everyone has dandruff, and must reconcile themselves to the idea of becoming completely bald or resort to the use of Newbro's Herpicide.

The manufacturers have absolute faith in Herpicide to kill the germ and remove all traces of dandruff. So perfect is this belief that all dealers are instructed to sell the preparation with a "money back" agreement.

Such supreme confidence is the best evidence in the world of the merit of Herpicide. They know the result, hence the guarantee. It protects the purchaser.

Used as directed, Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ that causes dandruff and prevents the hair from coming out. It stops itching of the scalp, which is so disagreeable.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Herpicide is for sale by all druggists, and applications may be obtained at good barber shops. (Adv.)

ONLY ONE TRAIN WILL BE RUN

Conductors and Engineers Are Handicapped in Excursion by the Scarcity of Rolling Stock.

Heretofore each year on the occasion of their annual excursion to the coast from Laredo the conductors and engineers of the Texas-Mexican division have divided their excursion into two trains, one leaving here in the morning and the other in the afternoon, but on account of the scarcity of available rolling stock this year, especially coaches, there will be only one train run during the excursion.

The train will leave here on the morning of July 3 at 7:45 o'clock, reaching Corpus same afternoon at about 3 o'clock, and returning this train will leave Corpus at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 5, reaching here at midnight. This train will carry the excursionists from Laredo and nearby points only, while the same train will operate back to San Diego on the morning of July 4 and run as a special excursion train from San Diego to Corpus.

From Laredo to Corpus a round-trip rate of $2 will prevail for the special train only. There is no doubt but that the excursion train will be taxed to accommodate the large crowd going to the coast on the morning of July 3.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued out of the District Court of Webb County, Texas, on the 12th day of June, 1914, and to me directed and delivered, in a certain case therein mentioned, wherein the City of Laredo is plaintiff and Manuel Villareal is defendant, and wherein said city recovered a judgment against the said Manuel Villareal on the 12th day of November, 1913, for the sum of Three Hundred and Forty-seven and 53-100 dollars, with a foreclosure of a tax lien on the following described property, viz: Lots numbers four (4) and five (5) in Block number sixty-nine (69) in the Western Division of the City of Laredo, Webb County, Texas.

I have levied upon the above described lands, and will sell the same to the highest bidder for cash, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., at public auction for cash, on the first Tuesday, the 7th day of July, 1914, in front of the Court House door, of said Webb County, Texas.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

BURNED TO DEATH IN LODGING HOUSE

EIGHTY PERSONS TRAPPED IN ARMENIAN LODGING HOUSE

WITH THE EXITS UNAVAILABLE.

By Associated Press. Milford, Mass., June 16.—Seven men burned to death and twenty were seriously injured when eighty persons were trapped in a burning Armenian lodging house here early today. The dead were taken from the upper floor of the four and one-half story building.

The fire started in the dining hall. It spread rapidly as the building was formerly a shoe factory and the timbers were impregnated with oil. The crazed inmates fled wildly, trying to save their lives. The firemen could not enter the building. They could aid the occupants only by spreading blankets and attempting to catch as they jumped.

PATMONT DISAPPEARED.

By Associated Press. Detroit, Mich., June 16.—The police are searching for Rev. Louis R. Patmont, a prohibition worker who, his friends believe, has been kidnapped by enemies. Patmont claimed that he was kidnapped March 31 during a local option campaign but escaped after a two months' imprisonment. He disappeared again last night.

SENSATIONAL CHARGE.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 16.—Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan today introduced a resolution charging that the United States kept marines in Nicaragua to influence the recent elections and that the state department has been acting in the interest of American bankers.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS TO GUARD ROYALTY

DREAD OF MILITANT OUTRAGES CAUSES GRREATLY INCREASED POLICE FORCE AT ASCOT.

By Associated Press. London, June 16.—Unprecedented precautions have been taken to guard royalty at the opening of the Ascot racing season today. The police lined the roads, and a thousand extra men were placed at the tracks. Thirty rails guarded the track to prevent the suffragettes reaching it. Alarm guns are placed in position around the stand. Among the fashionables present was Col. House of Texas.

COMMENCEMENT AT PRINCETON.

Princeton, N. J., June 16.—One of the largest classes in the history of Princeton University received their diplomas today at the 167th annual commencement. The exercises were held in Alexander Hall, with President John Grier Hibben presiding.

COLORADO SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Denver, Colo., June 16.—Many enthusiastic young delegates came to Denver today for the opening of the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Colorado State Sunday school association. The large attendance and the attractive programme combine to give promise of one of the most successful conventions ever held by the association. Leading speakers on the three-day programme are E. C. Knapp of Spokane, Prof. Charles Fordyce of the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, elementary superintendent of the international association.

INDIANA SUNDAY SCHOOL JUBILEE.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 16.—Representatives of 5,000 Sunday schools in Indiana gathered in this city today for the annual convention of their State association. The convention marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the association and the programme has been arranged with a view to suitably celebrating the anniversary and the work that the organization has accomplished during the half century of its existence. Noted Sunday school workers who will be heard at the three days' session will include Dr. Cornelius Woolf, kin of New York, Marion Lawrence of Chicago, Dr. Franklin McElfresh of Philadelphia and W. C. Pearce of Chicago.

Will Move to Colorado.

Some time ago W. O. Staver, assistant district attorney for the Southern District of Texas, tendered his resignation from that office, but same was not accepted until recently, his resignation becoming effective May 31. Mr. and Mrs. Staver will leave Laredo shortly for Pueblo, Colo., where Mr. Staver will become associated with his brother in business. The many friends of these estimable people regret to have them leave Laredo, but wherever they may go they will carry with them the well wishes of their legion of friends in this city.

WANTS UNCLE SAM TO RELEASE TERRAZAS

BRAZILIAN AMBASSADOR ASKS UNITED STATES TO SECURE HIS RELEASE FROM THE REBELS.

By Associated Press. Niagara Falls, Ont., June 16.—The mediation conferences continued today. Emilio Rabasa announced that Gen. Huerta denied that former United States Senator Towne was representing him in Washington. The Brazilian ambassador asked the United States to secure the release of Luis Terrazas Jr. The constitutionalists put him in the Chihuahua penitentiary.

GREEKS MASSACRED AND HOUSES LOOTED

TALES OF ATROCITIES BROUGHT TO SALONIKI BY STARVING REFUGEES FROM TOWN OF SMYRNA.

By Associated Press. Athens, Greece, June 16.—Greek refugees from Asia Minor today brought reports of a massacre by Turks of 100 Greeks, including priests, at Smyrna. The official report says that a horde of armed men looted and then burned the town, and that the Turkish police assisted them. Dead bodies were thrown in the wells. Thirty-eight hundred refugees, many wounded and all starving, reached Saloniki.

MANY WITNESSED BULL FIGHT

San Antonio Came Down on Excursion to See Female Matador Pull Off Stunts in the Arena.

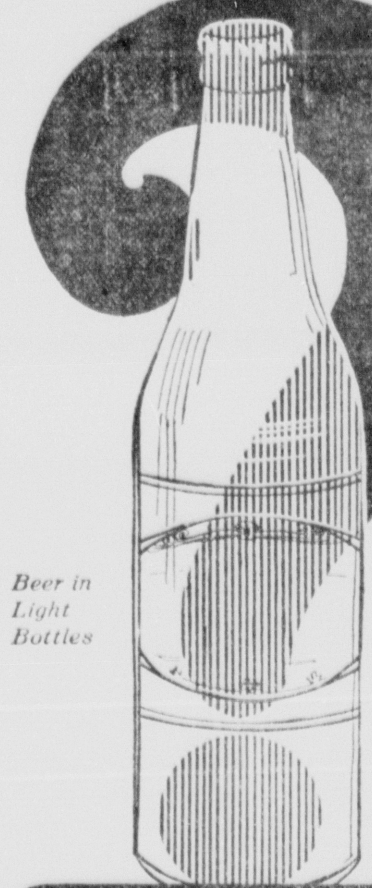

Both trains over the I. & G. N. from San Antonio yesterday brought a total of about 150 excursionists from the Alamo City, the principal attraction at this end of the line being the bull fight pulled off in Nuevo Laredo yesterday afternoon when a female bull fighter from the interior of Mexico, assisted by her coterie of banderilleros, etc., fought several fierce toros to a finish.

A number of Laredoites were also in evidence at the bull fight and those who witnessed it pronounced it as being an interesting event. There was a band of music on hand and the woman who did the principal stunts in the arena was given ovation after ovation for her fine work.

Schlitz The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous.

Death of Mr. John Boniger.

The race over the course of life is ended, the staunch seer, which had sailed the stormy sea of old, but now, at the age of eighty-five, and the sails are spread toward the shores of that haven where all is serene and quiet and the helmsman has cast anchor in that perpetual harbor where no more rips the storm, no more the tides change and no more are the weary hands called to perform that duty which fatigued the sailor. On his eighty-fifth birthday, tired and weary, prepared to surrender himself to the Almighty Pilot and enter the harbor of eternal rest, Mr. John Boniger, yesterday morning at 2:35 o'clock, passed peacefully away at the home of his son, J. F. Boniger, 1819 Farragut street. Deceased was a native of Canton, Glarus, Switzerland, where he was born on June 14, 1829, and had just reached his 85th birthday when the messenger of death summoned him to his eternal home. For some years past Mr. Boniger had been in feeble health on account of his ripe old age, and for the past 18 years he had made his home with his son in Laredo. He was preceded to the grave by his wife, who died in 1889. Deceased was of a kind and loving disposition and made friends of all who knew him. For the past several weeks he had been confined to his bed and his life was despaired of, hence when the end came peacefully in the early hours of morning it was not unexpected. To Mr. J. F. Boniger, his only son, goes the sympathy of the community. The funeral took place from the Boniger home yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, with interment in the family burying ground in the Knights of Pythias plot in the city cemetery, and the following acted as pallbearers: S. W. DeWolf, R. L. Woodul, M. M. Loyendeker, G. C. Woodman, J. C. Seymour and M. W. Brennan.

Get Rid of Your Rheumatism.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it if you apply Chamberlain's Liniment. W. A. Lockard, Homer City, N. Y., writes, "Last spring I suffered from rheumatism with terrible pains in my arms and shoulders. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and the first application relieved me. By using one bottle of it I was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

Was Given Plate Shower.

At the Weber home on Saturday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, Messdames Harry Johnston and G. R. Weber were hostesses at a "China shower" given in honor of Miss Pearl Winch, who, on June 24, will be led to Hymen's altar by Dr. Robert McCulloch of Corpus Christi. For the occasion a number of friends of the honoree were invited to be present and a most delightful afternoon was whiled away. The living room, where the game of auction bridge was played, was tastefully decorated in sun-rod. The color scheme being yellow. There were no prizes for the game. In the two-course luncheon the color scheme was also carried out. Each guest had sent a hand-painted plate, and these, piled on a tea tray, the present of the hostesses, were presented to the fair honoree. This constituted the "shower." Those present to enjoy the hospitalities of Messdames Johnston and Weber were the following: Mrs. H. M. Austin, Misses Lamar Brewster, Flora Bunn, Kate Tarver, Lucille Murphy, Mary Santos, Marguerite Nelson, Belle and Lillian Westbrook, Adeline, Thelma, Maria and Alice Moore, Frances Alexander, Margaret Oberholt, Roberta Kelly, Edna Mussett.

Indigestion and Constipation.

"About five years ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets after suffering indigestion and constipation for years without finding anything to relieve me. Chamberlain's Tablets helped me at once and by using them for several weeks I was cured of the complaint," writes Mrs. Mary E. McAllen, Phelps, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. (Adv.)

AWAITING LIST OF MEN FOR PRESIDENT

RABASA DENIED HAVING MADE CHARGES OF BAD FAITH AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

By Associated Press.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 15.—The mediation conferences continued to consider today the personnel of the new provisional government in Mexico. The list of men acceptable to the constitutionalists was awaited.

Emilio Rabasa, heading the Mexican delegation, issued a statement denying the charges of bad faith against the United States because the latter insisted that the new president be a constitutionalist sympathizer. This was published in some newspapers. He denied that the Mexicans had asked permission to withdraw from the conferences.

Factions May Unite.

Washington, June 15.—The presence here of representatives of the Huerta and Felix Diaz factions caused a report that their adherents had patched up their difficulties and were acting together to exert a strong influence on the mediators.

Still Hold Zacatecas.

Saltillo, Mex., June 15.—The situation about Zacatecas is unchanged. Natera holds minor positions within the town. Villa expected to leave Torreon yesterday to assume command before Zacatecas.

The mediators have not replied to Carranza. All confiscations from foreigners have been ordered stopped by Carranza.

Report Rebels Routed.

Mexico City, June 15.—Federal General Barron today reported that the constitutionalists were routed before Zacatecas with a loss of 3,000.

MINERS' RIOTS OVER.

By Associated Press.

Butte, Mont., June 15.—The miners' riots are believed to be over. Work was resumed today. Governor Stewart denied that the militia had been ordered mobilized.

REBELS ATTACKED ALBANIAN CAPITAL

DUTCH OFFICER SELECTED BY POWERS WAS KILLED AND PRINCE WILLIAM THEN TOOK COMMAND.

By Associated Press.

Durazzo, Albania, June 15.—The insurgents attacked Durazzo early today. Among the killed was Col. Thompson, a Dutch officer selected by the powers to command the Albanian garrisons. The government has 5,000 men and the insurgents have 2,000 wild Mussulman tribesmen.

After Col. Thompson fell, Prince William took his place at the head of the government troops. The insurgents were silenced after three hours of fighting.

The international fleet has landed bluejackets to protect the legations.

BROWN CELEBRATES CLASS DAY

Providence, R. I., June 15.—Today, the third of Brown University's commencement, was marked by Class Day exercises by the class of 1914. The exercises were held on the campus this afternoon of an address by Robert S. Holding, Jr., of Lexington, Me., president of the senior class, the class oration, by Nahum Merrill of Chicago, and the class poem, by Allan L. Langley, of Newport.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT AUGUSTA.

Augusta, Ga., June 15.—Many high ranking lawn tennis players are competing in the seventeenth annual South Atlantic States tournament which, opened on the courts of the Country Club here today under conditions that promise one of the most successful meets in the history of the association. The championships in men's singles and men's doubles, women's singles and mixed doubles will be decided at the tournament, which will continue for six days.

Only One Entirely Satisfactory. "I have tried various colic and diarrhoea remedies, but the only one that has given me entire satisfaction and cured me when I was afflicted is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. ITALIAN STRIKERS BURNED CHURCHES

VANDALISM OF LABOR MEN TAKES PECULIAR FORM IN ITALY AND THE CHURCHES SUFFER.

By Associated Press.

Rome, Italy, June 15.—Fourteen churches were burned, thirty-nine damaged and twenty-three looted during the recent general strike. Work was generally resumed today, order being restored.

Set Fire to Churches.

Bologna, Italy, June 15.—Rioters today set fire to the cathedral, the Church of Peace and the Church of the Holy Cross in Senegallia. Cavalry prevented the destruction of the cathedral, but the interiors of the others were wrecked. Strikers destroyed the railroad track and the telephone lines.

ADLAI STEVENSON DIED IN ILLINOIS

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT UNDER CLEVELAND PASSED AWAY AT HIS CHICAGO HOME SATURDAY NIGHT.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, June 15.—Former Vice President E. Stevenson died here Saturday night.

Adlai E. Stevenson had a long and honorable public career. He was vice president under Grover Cleveland from 1893 to 1897 and afterwards was nominated on the ticket with William J. Bryan, but was defeated. He served as a member of the 44th and 46th congresses.

He was born in Christian county, Kentucky, in 1835, and went with his parents to Bloomington, Illinois, in 1853. After graduating from college he studied law, and for many years was one of the prominent lawyers of that state.

He entered public life in 1864 as a presidential elector on the Democratic national convention which nominated Grover Cleveland for the presidency.

Since his retirement from political life after his defeat for governor of Illinois, he has devoted his entire time to his legal practice, until he became too enfeebled to attend to active work.

PRINTING PRESSMEN IN SESSION

Rogersville, Tenn., June 15.—Delegates from many parts of the United States and Canada assembled here today for the annual convention of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America. The sessions are being held at the home maintained by the organization here and will continue for a week or ten days. Among those in attendance at the opening session was G. A. Isaacs, general secretary of the Operative Printers and Assistants of Great Britain, who was present as a fraternal delegate from his organization.

CLASS DAY AT YALE.

New Haven, Conn., June 15.—Class day, the most conspicuous event of the college year, was observed at Yale today. Beginning with the class day exercises of the Sheffield Scientific School seniors this morning, the members of some department of the university in the class of 1914 were in the campus spotlight throughout the day. At 2 p. m. the graduates of the college proper assembled to listen to the final declamations of their members as students of the university, to hear the class oration and poem to witness the planting of the Class Ivy. Later in the afternoon the Medical School celebrated its centenary in Woodsee Hall, with addresses by President Hadley, Dr. Walter R. Steiner of Hartford and Prof. William H. Wellyell of John Hopkins University. At the anniversary exercises of the Law School the principal address was delivered by Judge Alton B. Parker of New York.

SUPPLY AND MACHINERY MEN.

White Sulphur Springs, Va., June 15.—The annual convention of the American Supply and Machinery Manufacturers' Association opened here today and will continue in session until Thursday. Members of the association from many parts of the country are in attendance. The officers in charge of the convention are D. E. Stewart of Cleveland, president; C. H. Jenkins of Louisville and John K. Broderick of St. Louis, vice presidents, and F. E. Mitchell of New York, secretary-treasurer.

MR. WILSON CHARGED WORK OF INTERESTS

SAYS SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF DELAY IN ANTI-TRUST PROGRAM IS RESULT OF A CAMPAIGN.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson made the direct charge today that the sentiment in favor of postponement of the administration's anti-trust legislation program was the result of a campaign by certain interests, and intimated that it was the cause of the "psychological business depression" of which he recently spoke.

The White House made public letters circulated among business men favoring the adjournment of congress without trust action, praying for a freight rate increase and demanding a halt in "attacks on business."

The president made it clear that the campaign would not affect him. He said that business was improving.

One of the letters was from the Simmons Hardware company of St. Louis. It was announced that the head of the company, E. C. Simmons, had declined a place on the federal reserve board. The White House was emphatic in the statement that there was no connection between the letter and the declination.

VETERANS ESCORT OLD COLORS.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 15.—A parade and interesting ceremonies were held today in connection with the transfer of Pennsylvania's old battle flags from the State Museum to the rotunda of the new Capitol. There were several hundred of the flags, including the colors borne by Pennsylvania troops in the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Civil War and the Spanish-American War. Civil war veterans and an escort of five companies of National Guardsmen marched in the parade to the Capitol. Governor John K. Tener opened the exercises with an address and Major Moses Veale, of Philadelphia, delivered the oration of the day.

THE ATHEIST TENDENCY.

Of late years it would seem that the workingmen of Europe are to be noted for their tendency toward atheism, particularly those of Latin blood.

In the Socialist riots in Spain, the leaders as well as the mob were frequently heard to yell their disapproval of the clerical party, as well as their contempt for the priests and their followers.

In France the hatred for the church has gone to such lengths that the property of the church has been confiscated and the monks and nuns turned forth to earn a living in the best way they could. It has been made a grave offense to belong to one of the brotherhoods or sisterhoods in that country, and subjects the offender to deportation.

The recent general strike in Italy showed this class hatred for the church more plainly than anything that has appeared publicly for many years. Many churches were burned or otherwise damaged by the strikers and their sympathizers, while many others were looted of their treasures. And in this happened in Catholic Italy, where the bulk of the people are not only of that faith, but are opposed to the domination of the church by the state. Strong disapproval of the policy of the Quirinal towards the Vatican has been repeatedly pronounced by the people, and the Italian has been considered as particularly a son of the church.

But for years past the propaganda of the working classes in continental Europe has been directed toward the disestablishment of the church, and the feeling of many of the leaders of the proletariat has been bitter toward the "clerics" and their followers.

So rapidly has the anti-clerical feeling spread that it is stated in many of the European newspapers that the workingmen as a class are irreligious. And this seems to be rapidly becoming the case in Protestant Germany as well as in Catholic France, Spain and Italy.

For many years the feeling in Mexico has been pronounced against the Roman Catholic clergy. The estates of the church in many cases were declared forfeited to the republic, and finally it was made an offense for a priest or a nun to be seen on the streets in priestly garb or the habit of the order.

The recent successes of the rebels in many places have led to the desertion of the churches, and complaints made to the various rebel leaders have been met with the reply that the majority of their followers are anti-religious and cannot be controlled in their hatred for the church and all it represents.

The claim of some of the rebel leaders that this hatred comes from abuses on the part of the clergy cannot be sustained in Mexico. For the government of that country has not for many years countenanced the church in any way, and has urged the civil marriage, not recognizing that of the church as being legal.

In no place were the poems of Mexico oppressed by the church for many years past, at least. They were free to attend church or not, as they chose, and some of the people who are now bent upon destroying the sacred images and pictures and stabling their horses in the sacred edifices were but a short time ago among the most devout of the worshippers.

The truth of the matter is that once a form of legal restraint is broken down, religion is among the first to disappear. It was so during the French revolution, and it has been demonstrated in the past few months in Mexico.

Forgetful of all the teachings of past years, the bandits who now feel themselves relieved of all restraint save that of their leaders in the field are showing their contempt for all outward form of respect. And they will be among the first to cry out upon those who still reverence at least the form of religion, no matter what their previous devotion.

LONDON FINANCIERS.

A London financial review, "The Financier," of May 22 contains a lengthy review of a book by John W. De Kay, entitled "The Dictators of Mexico," in which the London paper takes occasion to attack the "Wall Street Tyranny," saying that "The American money trust is a menace to European capital."

Many of our readers will remember John W. De Kay as having been connected with the defunct United States Bank and Trust Company of Mexico, which caused such a scandal some years ago, some of the members of the company having spent some months in jail for their "operations."

As was to have been expected, the London Financier charges most of the troubles—past, present and to come—in Mexico to the domination of Wall Street. To the European money market Wall Street is an ever present menace, although when the European financiers need funds to float a new enterprise, they have a habit of coming to Wall Street for help.

Mr. De Kay's work is interesting because it breathes throughout a spirit of antagonism to the United States, which was to have been expected. In his opinion, the Mexican crisis is leading to a war of conquest by the United States, "the results of which would appal mankind," says Mr. De Kay.

Continuing its criticism, The Financier says: "It needs but little reflection to show that Mexico's problem today may be the problem of her neighbors tomorrow. Meanwhile, it is imperative that the republic should establish its right to govern itself, free from outside interference. Once that right is sacrificed, the independence of every country south of the Rio Grande will be imperiled."

Mr. De Kay admits that it may be true that at present the majority of the inhabitants of the United States do not contemplate or desire the conquest of Mexico but he declares that their peaceful and unaggressive sentiments would quickly undergo a change in the course of an armed conflict. He says:

"Once the United States obtained control of Mexico City, it would take all proper measures to make that control permanent, so that if the Mexican flag goes down before the American forces it goes down never to be raised again south of the Rio Grande."

The perils which beset the South and Central American countries, in the estimation of Mr. De Kay, are set forth as follows:

"And if the United States annexed Mexico, it is likely that her conquest would stop there? When the occasion arose the American advance would be pressed forward to the Panama Canal, and if the opportunity did not normally arise, it would be created. Ultimately Central America would be overrun, and eventually South America would be penetrated."

And this not all of the peril which threatens the Latin-American races, according to Mr. De Kay. He says:

"The ability of a great part of Mexican industries to evolve has been due to the protection afforded them by Mexican legislation as a safeguard against ruinous competition from the enormous protected industries in the United States. The absorption of Mexico by the United States would be followed by the domination of Mexican industries by their larger and more powerful neighbors on the north."

This is the real kernel in the nut. In the past the "industries" of Mexico have been dominated by Mr. De Kay and his associates of all nations with the result that rich mines have been "absorbed" and then sold to foreign capitalists, and every sort of "industry" in which a man with limited capital and unlimited gull could make a rapid fortune has been exploited. It is reasonable to believe that a government such as the United States desires to see established in Mexico would not permit such exploitation.

The rebel despatches announce that the situation remains the same at Zacatecas, while the federal general reports that the rebels were routed with a loss of 3,000. At any rate, the situation seems to have demanded the presence of Villa, although Natera was appointed commander.

Scientists are wondering what is coming from the two new comets which have been formed by Mount Lassen. Let us hope that it won't be some of that nasty "ice cream" which the children get in the penny cones.

The Prohibition press of Texas is to be formed into an organization, and one of the first plans recommended is to refuse all plate material which comes from the Farmers' Union. Did they need to organize to make that agreement?

Mrs. Pennybacker has been nominated for a second term as president of the General Federation of Women's clubs. This is an honor which is deserved, and the Texas women will appreciate it as such.

Rabasa says he did not accuse the United States of bad faith in insisting that a man of constitutional proclivities be chosen as the successor to Huerta. But what he probably thought was a good deal worse than that.

William of Wied seems to be made of pretty good stuff, after all. When the head of the government forces was killed while repulsing an attack of the Albanian tribesmen, Prince William took command personally. He comes of good old fighting stock, and proves that he is not a degenerate.

COTTON PICKERS ARE IN DEMAND

Many Mexican Laborers Are Being Employed and Sent to Various Parts of State to Pick Cotton.

In view of the fact that the farmers of Southwest and Central Texas have big cotton crops now nearing that stage where picking will soon be in progress, cotton pickers are much in demand, and owing to the dearth in Mexican laborers, these latter are being offered big inducements to go to the cotton fields in various parts of the state.

Several hundred Mexican laborers have gone from Laredo to the cotton fields in the past two weeks and more are being sought by the different labor agencies here. Every incoming train from Mexico brings a few of the lower class of Mexicans who come to this country in search of employment on railroads or in the cotton fields, and these are readily employed and soon thereafter dispatched on a train bound for some place in the interior.

Power Plant to Work Irrigation Pumps.

To obtain such irrigation a power plant could be placed at the coal fields and run by electric current produced from the low grade, unshippable "bone" coal.

An immense storage and supply reservoir could be maintained, nor would it be a work of such enormous magnitude to contain and maintain 20,000,000 cubic feet of water placed on suitable ground, from which a flood of water could be delivered by gravitation through all this fertile but semiarid land, and this at an enormous economy to planters and at a good source of profit to the COAL ELECTRIC IRRIGATION PROJECT.

CITY OF LAREDO, TEXAS.

By R. C. Bateman.

Proposed Interurban Ry.

A project is at present on foot to build this line down the river for about 10½ to 11 miles to the Espejo Farm and to serve all the rich and productive farms en route, and the Laredo Electric & Ry. Company has asked the City of Laredo and property owners to provide a bonus to build and operate this proposed line. This matter is pending at present, but nothing has so been decided upon.

Probable Revenue.

This line is of the utmost importance, in order to serve the rich and developed farms along the Rio Grande (river) as well as to develop further properties. The most conservative estimates show a profit of 80 per cent at least to this Interurban, beside which it will develop a large passenger traffic.

Farms Double in Value.

After the construction of this line, these farms will no doubt double in produce and value within one year from the inauguration of this line.

Estimate of Cost of Interurban and Bonus Asked.

It is estimated that this line will cost about $150,000 complete with all equipment and covering all contingencies incident to promotion and floating.

The line can also be furnished with cheap power from the proposed central station at the mines, and already referred to.

Laredo Water Company.

This company has for many years supplied this city with water, and during its operations has used coal principally, at heavy cost.

Interstate Electric Corporation Owners.

This concern has been recently acquired by the Interstate Electric Corporation, which corporation has also acquired several similar plants in Texas and elsewhere, and has in each case improved and brought up to date the various interests brought under its control, and will doubtless do the same in Laredo.

Water Company Employ Electric Power.

This company also will look to the possibilities of employing cheaper power, and could also be supplied from the Central Station and thus effect a great economy.

Irrigation.

Of all of the possibilities of this section, requiring heat and power, transmitted or otherwise, and dependent on our coal, irrigation easily holds first place.

Rio Grande (River) Perennial.

The Rio Grande is the boundary between the United States of America and Mexico, as far as El Paso, where it takes a northern course, and where near a point called Eagle, in New Mexico State, it is now being dammed at Elephant Butte, by the National Government at a cost of $10,000,000 and will irrigate a fertile stretch of country by a system of canals 170 miles long, besides generating power, due to the difference in levels obtained en route. This power will be transmitted and sold to farmers and industries and will constitute a source of revenue to the Water User's Association.

Big Reservoir and Power at Coal Fields.

If a great reservoir were built at the coal fields, it is quite possible that a certain volume of power might also be obtained in the same manner, and also utilized.

At the present moment the irrigation employed up and down the river, is performed by a large number of small, independent units, driven by every imaginable class of machinery and supplying at the duty rate of 900 gallons per minute and upwards, and all of them costly in the extreme, so that if more than four or five irrigations take place per season, or crop, due to a failure in rain it is easily seen how excessive this service becomes.

These small units even then serve only to irrigate a small strip of cultivated farms near the river, and yet with all this cost and loss, the growers have managed in ONIONS ALONE to produce and market $1-250,000 each season, additional to other crops.

The cost of irrigation from a great storage reservoir could do this irrigation at from $5 to $7 per acre and cover a much larger area than at present, and fertilize also all of the rich areas inland towards Carrizo Springs as well as down the river to 12 or 15 miles below Laredo and as far as Espejo Farm.

Increase in Produce.

What then would be the wealth produced by irrigating these lands on the higher benches above the river? when a comparatively small area around Laredo city, irrigated by small and costly units, can earn $1,250,000 in one crop of onions alone?

Power Plant to Work Irrigation Pumps.

To obtain such irrigation a power plant could be placed at the coal fields and run by electric current produced from the low grade, unshippable "bone" coal.

Storage and Supply Reservoir.

An immense storage and supply reservoir could be maintained, nor would it be a work of such enormous magnitude to contain and maintain 20,000,000 cubic feet of water placed on suitable ground, from which a flood of water could be delivered by gravitation through all this fertile but semiarid land, and this at an enormous economy to planters and at a good source of profit to the COAL ELECTRIC IRRIGATION PROJECT.

LEAVES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

R. C. Bateman, Secretary, Has Severed His Connection With Commercial Organization.

Mr. R. C. Bateman, who has been secretary for the Laredo Chamber of Commerce since February of this year is no longer connected with the organization, having severed his connection on last Monday, June 15th. The letters published below are self-explanatory as to Mr. Bateman's retirement from the secretaryship, but he said to a Times reporter that he proposes to contest the right of the Board of Directors to remove him from office without just and ample cause when he was regularly elected last February for a term of one year. The letters follow:

Board of Directors Laredo Chamber of Commerce, Laredo, Texas, June 2nd, 1914.

Mr. R. C. Bateman, Laredo, Texas.
Dear Sir:—In view of criticism that have reached us from various members, we found it necessary to consider a change in the secretaryship, and therefore have set June 15th, 1914, on which date your services will cease, however your salary will continue until July 1st, 1914.

You can be assured that your efforts have been deeply appreciated, your work very gratifying and your character beyond reproach.

With best wishes for success in your future undertakings, we beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) President
CHARLES F. KENNEY, D. O.

Laredo, Tex., June 11, 1914.
Dr. Chas. F. Kenney, D. O., President, Board of Directors, Laredo Chamber of Commerce, Laredo, Texas.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of June 2nd, addressed to me and handed to me by you on the morning of June 9th, has had my attention; and in reply I beg to inform you and the Board of Directors, that, in view of my election as Secretary for the ensuing year and recorded in the minutes of the Board of February 5, 1914, I do not admit your right to your action contained therein.

I most vigorously protest against this breach of contract by you in giving me notice of discharge, without any valid reason whatever.

In view of your action I demand payment of the balance of salary due to me up to February 5, 1915, and shall be glad if you will at once do this. This is without prejudice to any further action I might take for damages if this is not done at once. Also I demand to know the nature of the and the authors of the "criticisms" which appear to have been of so serious a nature that you "find it necessary to consider a change in the secretaryship." This statement implies malice or libel or defamation of character by certain persons not named and made to you—and of such a nature, in your consideration, as to justify you in your arbitrary and unjustifiable breach of my contract, made more unjustifiable by the marks of your appreciation of my efforts and work and character contained in your said letter.

If this matter is not immediately made completely clear, I shall also commence legal action to recover damages for this also. I beg to remind you that your letter to me of June 2nd, 1914, was by me read aloud to the Directors at the regular meeting of June 9th, and upon my asking if this was an act of the Board, you, Mr. President, informed me it was so. This will be recorded by me in the minutes of that meeting, as well as the adulatory references made by you to myself at the same meeting. Also, I beg to remind you that neither by letter, word or spirit, did I accept the arbitrary discharge contained in your said letter.

In reference to your orders to me to turn over all books, papers and money to Mr. Scovill, recognizing that this office and its contents are the property of the Board and are not mine, I shall carry out such instructions as shall be resolved upon at the Board meeting of June 9th; the money referred to I have nothing to do with as that is in the hands of the Treasurer.

I may say that I have taken legal advice in this matter, and trust I may not have to instruct my attorney, who is in possession of all that has transpired since last February, and which appears to have culminated in this breach of contract and the other matters referred to herein.

Yours truly,
R. C. BATEMAN.

The wedding party and guests reach here this afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Cook taking the train to night for Colorado on a honeymoon trip. An account of the wedding will appear in tomorrow's Times.

By Associated Press.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 17.—A distinct change in the policy of the United States is expected as the result of recent Mexican developments. The constitutionalists remain uncompromising toward the establishment of a provisional government. Friction is reported between Carranza and Villa, and between Governor Maytorena and Gen. Obregon in Sonora. The constitutionalists are meeting reverses on land and sea. Owing to the serious situation in Northern Mexico, the mediators are trying to hurry a settlement of the international difficulties. The Mexicans announce that they will do everything in their power to prevent a break in the negotiations.

Sank Rebel Gunboat.

Washington, June 17.—The Huerta gunboat Guerrero defeated and probably sank the constitutionalist gunboat Tampico near Mazatlan, Admiral Howard reported today. The captain and chief engineer of the Tampico committed suicide.

The engagement took place last night off Topolobampo. Some of the Tampico's crew were rescued by the cruiser New Orleans. The Guerrero rescued others. If the Tampico was not sunk, it is certain that she is badly disabled.

This is the second time that the constitutionalist navy has been defeated by the federal navy. The Tampico was sunk June 11 and was only put back into commission yesterday.

The Tampico was later reported to have sunk.

How Rebel Leaders Interpret It.

Washington, June 17.—Constitutionalist leaders here do not interpret Villa's actions last night as meaning a permanent breach between Villa and Carranza. Villa resigned his commission and imprisoned the Carranza leaders in Juarez. The constitutionalists explain that Villa is determined to rid himself of politicians associated with Carranza, and who had issued orders without authority, embarrassing Villa's movements. Carranza is reported to have felt that the trouble would adjust itself, but Villa took the initiative. The constitutionalists expect Villa to take the supreme command of Northern Mexico, as he insisted, and that Carranza will compose the other difficulties.

Villa Says No Split.

El Paso, Texas, June 17.—Villa issued a statement today in which he said that there was no split between him and Carranza. He said the arrest of the Carranza officials was the result of a misinterpretation of orders by the Juarez commander. It was learned, however, that the thirty officials arrested were sent early today to Torreon, where they remained. Perez Abreu, Carranza's publicity agent, is still missing. He was transcribing Natera's defeat at Zacatecas when he was arrested. The promotion of Natera is reported to have caused the breach among the constitutionalists. Villa's adherents said that he would make Felipe Angeles, Carranza's minister of war, president instead of Carranza.

Extra Session of Congress.

Mexico City, June 17.—High government officials said today that an extra session of congress would be called to discuss matters of great importance which would result in restoring peace.

VILLA'S DEFECTION.

The long-expected break between Villa and Carranza has come to pass, and the outcome of the present embargo is hard to prophesy. The loss to Carranza of the only leader of importance on his side, with the probable further defection of Felipe Angeles, the one soldier of military training in his entire force, can but mean defeat in his campaign for the presidential chair.

Opinions differ as to the reasons for Villa's defection, but it would appear to be simply because he was tired of dictation. Some time ago it was announced that he would take military command, leaving "affairs of state" for Carranza to manage, but the "supreme chief" does not seem to have taken kindly to the idea, and now he is left alone to fight his battles against the Huerta forces as best he may.

Of late the tide has turned against the rebel forces. Since the capture of Monterey, they have not had a single success, except the occupation of the evacuated city of Saltillo, where there was nothing left for them to take.

On both land and sea they have met with reverses. Naterá, the widely-heralded commander who was appointed to succeed Villa in the command of the forces in the attack on Zacatecas, seems to have been most thoroughly whipped, and it was the falsified reports of his successes which led Villa to take action in Juárez the other night.

The report that Villa was to leave Torreón with 15,000 men to aid Naterá in attacking Zacatecas seems to have been premature, as does also a later report that Angeles would take command of 5,000 troops of that command to Naterá's aid.

The gunboat Tampico was sunk by the federal gunboat Guerrero, and the captain and chief engineer of the rebel boat committed suicide. This was the second calamity to the Tampico, which was surrendered through the treachery of the lieutenant because he was in love with the daughter of a rebel commander and became the only vessel of the rebel "fleet."

It would appear that Carranza would now have to withdraw some of his pretentious demands, especially in view of the recent defeats which his troops have suffered and the defection of his only successful commander.

Nothing but his stubborn refusal to declare an armistice during the mediation proceedings has prevented his being accepted as one of the parties to the conferences, and should he continue in his attitude he will probably be eliminated from the proceedings entirely.

Without the aid of Villa he never would have had the successes on which he bases his claim to be considered as the prominent factor in the settlement of the Mexican affairs. Without Angeles Villa never would have been so successful in his campaigns, which were almost entirely planned by Angeles, who is a graduate of the Mexican military academy and a student of strategy under the best teachers.

The attitude of the United States will without doubt undergo a complete change following the resignation of Villa and his refusal to longer recognize Carranza as his chief. It will be found that the Mexican people are not willing to recognize as supreme chief a man who never won a battle, never saw a firing line and never planned a campaign in his entire career.

Later developments will no doubt show that without Villa and Angeles Carranza will be nothing but a figurehead. And the present crisis demands something besides a figurehead.

FASHIONS VS. MODESTY.

In speaking of dress before the General Federation of Womens Clubs Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, Cal., discussed it in its relation to morals. Mrs. Burdette said:

"With forbidden knowledge came self-consciousness and with self-consciousness came the sense of shame and the protective garment—and thus did the transgression of our first parents cover all future generations with a blanket mortgage of clothes which we are paying off with heavy interest."

There is no doubt that in the mild climate which we are told existed in the Garden of Eden, clothes were worn first as a covering dictated by modesty, and not for protection from the elements. But in other climes clothes were worn for protection against the burning rays of the sun, or to conserve the animal heat in a freezing temperature.

But history shows that at a very early date clothing was worn by women as an ornament, and the dress adopted by the early Greeks and Latins was not only to cover the person and to protect the women from the heat or cold, but was also by its color and its cut calculated to adorn the person and to attract attention to the feminine charms of those who wore it.

And in early days, not only the women but also the men wore clothing which was calculated to be an adornment, rather than an article of utility and comfort. The dress of the men in medieval times was far more gorgeous and fantastic than that of the women of the same period.

But with the adoption of the "styles" which originate in Paris as the dictator of the fashions, the world of women has become nothing less than a set of slaves to the caprice of the clothes designers, and nothing is thought of wearing a dress which in a previous generation would have subjected the wearer to contumely, if not to arrest.

Aside from the immodesty of the average dress of the period, there is another danger. In this country, where one woman considers herself as good as another, each strives to dress as well as her neighbor, regardless of whether her means will permit or not. And the competition thus set up leads to envious heart-burnings which result in a desperate attempt to follow the fashion regardless of the cost.

Mrs. Burdette said: "No one thing today in a woman's life more saps her strength, time, means and nervous vitality than the triple-headed lion that guards every event of daily life in the form of the question 'What shall I wear?' 'How shall it be made?' and 'How shall it be paid for?'"

There was a time, not so many years ago, when a woman wore what was becoming to her particular style, regardless of what her neighbor wore. But nowadays one sees on the streets the very same costumes worn by the fashionable society lady, the shop girl and the cook, the only difference being in the materials, simply because some man in Paris has designed what shall be worn to be "in the mode."

And the immodesty of most of the costumes cannot be explained away or excused on the ground of comfort. Girls walk the streets in winter time with less covering than would suffice for a summer stroll, and imagine themselves comfortable because the style demands the wearing of fewer garments.

Summer dresses are frequently seen trimmed with furs, while low-cut shoes, low-cut dresses, flimsy stockings and insoufficient clothing mark the winters' styles.

But the reformation of women's clothing must come from the women themselves. And the fact that some of the greatest women of America are interested in the new wave of dress reform indicates that the reform is an earnest one, and that it will be successful.

Now that Villa has taken away Carranza's rag doll, what will the dictator have to play with? He has lost his only gunboat, a great part of his army, and the biggest half of his territory. Perhaps he can content himself with his general hospital and headquarters at Saltillo.

But the split in the rebel ranks will not improve the condition of the Carrancista currency. Those who are looking for the redemption of their notes at some future date would do well to see that they are signed "Francisco Villa." All others spurious.

That Illinois policeman who shot at the German ambassador because he refused to stop his automobile ought to go to Dallas. Up there a man is promoted for rapid gun-play.

It is evident that the rebels were never born to slime as navigators. Twice within a week their only gunboat was sunk, and this time it probably will not be raised. They might now try a catamaran.

It is not believed that the "reserve system" will find popular favor in Mexico. They are somewhat shy of anything that bears the name "federal" these days, and seem to prefer a piece of paper with "Vale por" something or other on it.

Notice.

I have leased the fishing and hunting privilege on the lake at my Laguna ranch to Mr. C. H. Clifton and this is to notify the public that they must not go to the lake to fish or hunt without a permit from him.

DOCTORS ENDORSE

Newbro's Herpicide

When a doctor endorses a preparation it means more than an ordinary testimonial. His opinion is always that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Dr. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn., says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M. D., No. 2 Burrough Place, Cor. Hollis St., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp but brightens the hair, gives it life and makes it soft."

Dr. T. A. Moore, Duncan, Ariz., writes of his experience: "My scalp was in places covered by patches of dry, scaly material and the itching was incessant. Since using Herpicide all these evils have disappeared and my hair is soft, smooth and growing. Hair has grown on spots before but thinly covered."

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once.

Herpicide is for sale at Drug Stores and one dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at the leading barber shops. Be sure you get genuine Herpicide. Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. (Adv.)

CYRUS H. K. CURTIS.
Cyrus H. K. Curtis, who is numbered among the leading newspaper and magazine publishers of the world, was born in Portland, Me., June 18, 1850. He was educated in the public schools in New England, and after leaving school went to Boston and engaged in the newspaper publishing business. The year of the Centennial Exposition he went to Philadelphia and established in that city a publication called the "Tribune and Farmer." Later he founded a woman's monthly magazine which attained remarkable success. Other publications were bought or established, including daily newspapers as well as weekly and monthly magazines, and in the course of time the business of the Curtis Publishing Company, of which Mr. Curtis is president, became the largest of its kind in the world.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give

The Favorite of Your Favorite

TEN chances to one, your favorite ball-player smokes Tuxedo. We have scores of testimonials from the crack men of the crack nines all over the country, saying that they enjoy Tuxedo and recommending it to you.

Also—look around you the next time you pick out that soft seat in the bleachers or grandstand and see how many of your neighbors are packing their pipes with Tuxedo or rolling it into cigarettes.

Size up the men who are smoking and endorsing Tuxedo. They're real men, full of life and the joy of life.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is in a class by itself. It has many imitators—but in the pipe it has no equal. It is made of the best selected Burley Tobacco, the finest that Kentucky grows, ripened, cured and aged until it has reached the tip-top of mildness, mellowness and sweetness. Then it is treated by the original "Tuxedo Process" which takes out all the sting so it cannot possibly bite—even if you should smoke it all day long.

You simply cannot buy better tobacco at any price. Try Tuxedo today. You will see why these men are so fond of it.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL AT VALLEY FORGE.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 19.—Noted orators and many representatives of patriotic, military and other societies gathered at Valley Forge today for the dedication of the nation's memorial to the patriots who suffered there in a winter campaign under Washington for the independence of the American colonies. The memorial is in the form of an imposing arch and was erected at a cost of $100,000, which amount Congress appropriated for the purpose several years ago. The arch stands at the junction of the old Guelph road where it crosses the outer line driveway. Its design was largely influenced by that of the famous Arch of Titus in Rome, which has been somewhat adapted to meet the conditions at Valley Forge. The architect was Paul M. Gret, professor of design in the school of Architecture of the University of Pennsylvania.

The arch is of granite, sixty feet high. On one side is the inscription: "To the officers and private soldiers of the Continental army, Dec. 19, 1777, June 19, 1778." On the other side of the arch is the quotation: "Naked and starving as they were, we cannot enough admire the incomparable patience and fidelity of the soldiers."

Gus Williams of the Browns, who was leading the American league in batting a few weeks ago, has dropped out of the .300 class of batsmen.

COMMENCEMENT AT HARVARD.

Cambridge, Mass., June 18.—Harvard University, the oldest of all educational institutions in America, closed its 278th year today with the annual graduation exercises. The graduating class was one of the largest in the history of the institution and included among its members representatives of every State in the Union and of a number of foreign countries.

At 10 o'clock this morning the president and fellows, faculties and other officers of the university met in the historic yard to march in procession to Sanders Theatre, where the graduation exercises were held. As in former years, the procession and the exercises of the day were in charge of the class that is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of its graduation this year, the class of 1889 having the honor.

The programme in Sanders theatre began with the assembling of the distinguished company with the president seated in his chair. Then came the learned addresses. The Latin oration was delivered by W. M. Washburn of New York, and the English parts by W. O. Fenn of Cambridge, R. P. Goldman of Cincinnati, A. P. McMahon of Portland, Me., and P. B. Potter of Long Branch, N. J. Following these exercises the ordinary and honorary degrees were given out by President Lowell.

COOK DAVIES WEDDING.

A beautiful and impressive home wedding in which the contracting parties were two of Webb county's most prominent young people was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Davies at Dolores on Wednesday forenoon, beginning at 11 o'clock, when Rev. H. B. Woods of Laredo, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy couple pronounced the solemn words which linked the destinies of Dr. Albert T. Cook and Miss Margaret Elizabeth Davies, both of Dolores, Texas.

The commodious reception room of the Davies home, in which took place the important event in the lives of the popular couple, was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the motif being green and white, and these two colors blended in harmony throughout. Set in relief against a background formed of embankments of asparagus and maiden hair fern, while in one corner pendulated an immaculate white wedding bell of large proportions, the room presented a beautiful scene. It was beneath the large wedding bell that the solemn ceremony of matrimony occurred.

At the conclusion of the rendition of the solo, "O Promise Me," rendered by Miss Roberta Kelly of this city, the ribbon girls, Misses Dorothy Mae and Hyceneth Davies, sisters of the bride, entered the reception room and stretching the ribbons, formed an aisle through which the bridal party passed on its journey toward the bell. Miss Ellen Ramsay presided at the piano and as the soft, sweet notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march floated on the forenoon zephyrs, the bridal party entered the room in the following order: Miss Mary Helen Stanford of Georgetown, bridesmaid; Miss Hannah Louise Davies, maid of honor; Mrs. O. J. Cook, matron of honor; the beautiful bride on the arm of her father, Mr. D. D. Davies. Arriving at a place near the large bell they were met by the groom, attended by his brother, Dr. O. J. Cook, as best man. Then followed the pronouncing of the impressive words that made the happy couple man and wife.

Following the performance of the ceremony and the receiving of the felicitations and best wishes of their many friends, the happy couple and guests repaired to the dining hall to partake of a sumptuous wedding repast. In the dining hall the color scheme was also carried out and presented a most refreshing scene with the profusion of La France roses against a background of ferns. Shortly after the report the bridal party came to Laredo and that same evening the bride and groom left for Colorado on a honeymoon trip.

The beautiful bride was becomingly dressed in a costume of white chiffon crepe with silk shadow lace and pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. She wore a wreath and veil.

The matron of honor, Mrs. O. J. Cook, was attired in a gown of white charmeuse and shadow lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Hannah Louise Davies, was attired in a gown of pink crepe chiffon and shadow lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Helen Stanford, wore a gown of pink crepe chiffon and shadow lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The winsome bride, who is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Davies, was principal of the San Jose school, and by her amiable and pleasing manner had endeared herself to all who knew her. She was born and reared at Dolores and is a general favorite in that community.

The fortunate groom, who formerly resided in Laredo, where he was associated in business with his brother, Dr. O. J. Cook, is a popular young physician who has made friends since coming to this section about two years ago. He is the company physician for the Cannel Coal Co. at Dolores. To Dr. and Mrs. Cook go the well wishes of numerous friends for a long and happy wedded life.

The following is a partial list of the guests who were present to witness the ceremony: Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Cook; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ramsay; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Trout; Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Woods; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wagon; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Galbraith; Misses Roberta Kelly, Ellen Ramsay and Flora Bunn; Judge Geo. R. Page; B. Richardson; Arthur Schmitt; H. G. DaCamara and C. C. Biggio; Laredo; R. M. Johnson; Editha; Miss Mary Helen Stanford; Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. John Loftus; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Davies; Dolores; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Worsham and Miss Mamie Worsham; Darwin.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents, including a silver set presented by Webb county officials, the bride's father being a member of the county administration. The groom's gift to the bride was a hand some lavatory, while the bride presented each of her attendants with a gold bar pin.

While Detroit lost first place during the absence of Ty Cobb the Tigers are still very much in the American league race.
